

FRAT WILL MAKE NO FURTHER OVERTURES

Officers Think Advances Have Gone Far Enough—Election Today

No steps will be taken at the meeting of the Phi Lambda Epsilon fraternity being held in Colorado Springs to bring about a settlement of the existing difficulties between high school frats and faculty members.

"We have met them more than half way. We have invited a close inspection of our order. We have invited faculty members into our order. Some of them are our best workers. To far-minded men I ask could we go farther without lowering ourselves?"

J. F. Owens of Oklahoma City, one of the charter members of the fraternity, and E. C. Grover of Kansas City, one of the leaders of the fraternity, will seek a conference with R. C. Hill, principal of the Colorado Springs High school this morning. The announced interview, providing it takes place will pertain to educational matters. It is the understanding, though that the situation between the Phi Lambda Epsilon and the local faculty members, will be discussed. Mr. Owens and Mr. Grover are attorneys.

May Change By-Laws.

Very little business of a public nature was transacted at yesterday's meeting in the Alamo hotel. A committee is working out the details of a motion that would change the tenure of office from one to three years. A substitute amendment is proposed that would only necessitate a change in the official roster, once every two years. A report will be made on the proposition today.

Following the business session and committee meetings, visiting delegations were taken on a sightseeing trip through Colorado Springs, Manitou and other points of interest in the Pikes Peak region.

About 200 fraternity members were seated at the annual class banquet given at the Alamo hotel last night. C. F. Lambin was the toastmaster. The silver loving cup, presented by the fraternity to the chapter having the largest delegation present at the annual meeting, the distance traveled being considered, was won by the St. Louis fraternity members. The standing of the chapters was considered also.

The election of officers was postponed until today. The name of president for the following year, it is expected, will fall upon E. C. Grover of Kansas City.

Oklahoma Wants Next Meeting.

At a committee meeting yesterday afternoon, Oklahoma City was decided upon as the place for the next convention. The convention will act upon the recommendation today. Joplin and St. Louis were named as places asking for the 1912 meetings but a compromise was effected in the committee meeting which will probably give the next annual session to one of the two places.

The conclave closes tonight following a dance at Broadmoor casino. Invitations have been extended to a number of Colorado Springs and Denver people. Funk's orchestra will play. Sightseeing trip will be continued this morning, following the business session. A luncheon will be given at noon at the Alamo hotel.

The final business meeting and election of national officers will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the convention closing with a 6 o'clock dinner in the private dining room at the Alamo

APPARENTLY UNBALANCED, SICK WOMAN HANGS SELF

While recently unbalanced, it is believed by the authorities, Mrs. Martha Primmer, 55 years old, and whose home is at 11 Griswold street, committed suicide late Wednesday night or early yesterday morning, by hanging herself with a strip of muslin twisted into a rope. She was the wife of Wesley Primmer, at present employed on a ranch a few miles below the town of Fountain. Her death was discovered by her nurse about 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mrs. Primmer had not regained her health since giving birth to a child about six weeks ago, and within the last few days her condition was such that she was placed under the care of a physician and nurse.

The nurse kept a close watch over her patient fearing her mental condition that she might not be responsible for her actions, and late Wednesday night, when she went to Mrs. Primmer's room found the latter apparently sound asleep. It is believed now that the woman feigned sleep and that as soon as the nurse withdrew, she twisted a strip of muslin into a rope, fastened one end to a hook in the ceiling and hung herself. Her body was in an adjoining room.

The family came to Colorado Springs from Kansas several years ago, and until recently Primmer was employed as a laborer by the city. At present Primmer and his four small children are living on the ranch near Fountain.

Coroner Jackson conducted a brief investigation yesterday of the woman's death and decided that an inquest is unnecessary. The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of Fairley's and Law Funeral arrangements have not been made.

COLD. COLLEGE GRADUATE IS HIGH MAN IN EXAMS

The highest honors in the recent examinations for admission to the state bar belong to Donald C. McFerry of Greeley, who graduated from Colorado College in 1907. His grading was announced as 92nd out of 62, who took the examination passed.

PUEBLO FOLK HERE ON ANNUAL OUTING

As a result of negotiations yesterday seven high school students of the Delta & Laramie Guard of Pueblo, and their families, will enjoy their annual outing in the hills of this city today, with a large share of the proceeds of the festivities.

This is an annual event with the shop workers, and in previous years the dry gas dealers, the electricians, the Conoco tires, the tire companies, the express busines, the telephone company, it was impossible to get a car, so that for a trip out it was decided yesterday to vary the plan by coming to Colorado Springs.

The Puebloans will come here in special cars attached to the Rio Grande No. 12, leaving Lincoln at 8 o'clock a.m. and arriving here about 10 a.m. There will be a brief tour of the party, including army women and children, and then funds are raised which they will take up 1st street, across Zoo park, where at 11 o'clock a.m. a program of athletic events will be held on the baseball field. The contests include various foot races, tug of war, football, kicking, jumping, hammer throw, ball put, etc., the which valuable prizes donated by various merchants and firms of Pueblo will be given.

At 1 o'clock the men of the team representing the Pikes Peak Guard will play the Zoo and in the evening the game baseball, the girls and boys running contests will bring the round events to a close. The occasion will be made a social affair, the children's day at the zoo, and there will be admitted free both to the grounds and the baseball game.

Messrs. Young and Harbert, who are in charge of the arrangements for the outing spent the afternoon here yesterday perfecting details of the excursion and picnic, and said they were confident the trip to Colorado Springs would prove one of the most enjoyable outings the top leaders ever had.

POSTOFFICE ISSUES NEW ORDER CONCERNING STAMPS

Do not put advertising stamps or adhesive stamps of any description, other than the ones furnished by the government, on the addressing side of an envelope.

This is an order that the postoffice department has just issued and is insisting that the Colorado Springs postmaster carry it into effect. The order refers to the red cross stamp and the little stickers, such as used in advertising conventions and carnivals.

Such stamps, the order says, can be placed on the reverse side of the letter, providing they do not interfere and description resembles the lawful postage stamp, or bear numerals.

"The government asks that letters bearing such stamps be returned to the writer," said C. E. Thompson, superintendent of delivery. "In case the writer is not known, then the letter is sent to the dead letter office. I have had to return several letters."

HAYTI NEARLY NORMAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Conditions in Hayti are so nearly normal that all but one American warship will soon be withdrawn from those waters, according to information at the navy yard today. The cruiser Des Moines, the scout cruiser Salem and the gun-boats Marietta and Peoria are now on guard there.

APPROPRIATIONS BEING PLACED IN THEIR CLASSES

DENVER, Aug. 24.—The state treasurer and state auditor have compiled a statement of the appropriations which are in the fourth and fifth classes for which there appears to be no hope of payment. The state officials are not certain that all of the third class will be paid.

The third class includes the appropriations for all the state educational institutions, which will be compelled to retrench in order that they may have money to keep them going this biennial period.

The money left after the first and second-class appropriations have been paid will be apportioned among the third-class appropriations, if there is not enough to pay them in full.

The appropriation of $50,000 for the defense of the waters of the Arkansas has not been classified definite. State Treasurer Kenefick placed it in the first class. State Auditor Long refuses to place it higher than this class, unless ordered by the district court. A test suit will be brought determining the question.

PUEBLO FOLK HERE ON ANNUAL OUTING

As a result of arrangements made yesterday, several hundred shop employees of the Denver & Rio Grande and their families will enjoy their annual outing and field day in this city today, with Zoo park as the scene of the festivities.

This is an annual event with the shop workers, and in previous years the day has usually been spent in Canon City, but, owing to the heavy pressure of business on the Rio Grande, it was impossible to secure a special train for that trip, and it was decided yesterday to vary the program by coming to Colorado Springs.

The Puebloans will come here in special cars attached to Rio Grande train No. 12, leaving Pueblo at 8:30 o'clock a. m. and arriving here about an hour later. There will be at least about 200 in the party, including many women and children, and immediately on arrival they will take special street cars for Zoo park, where, at 11 o'clock a. m., a program of athletic events will be held on the baseball field. The contests include various foot races, a tug of war, football, kicking, jumping, hammer throw, shot put, etc., for which valuable prizes, donated by various merchants and firms of Pueblo, will be given.

At 3 o'clock the strong baseball team representing the Rio Grande shuns will play the Zoo, and just previous to the game, baseball-throwing and base running contests will be held. The field events to a close. The occasion will be made a special ladies and children's day at the Zoo, and they will be admitted free, both to the grounds and the baseball games.

Mrs. Young and Herbert, who are in charge of the arrangements for the outing, spent the afternoon here yesterday perfecting details of the excursion and picnic, and said they were confident the trip to Colorado Springs would prove one of the most enjoyable outings the shop employees ever had.

WILL WRITE TWO ARTICLES FOR CHICAGO PUBLICATION

A. W. Henderson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has been asked to write two special articles for "Town Development," a Chicago publication devoted to civic affairs. The suggested topics will be on postcard days in Colorado Springs and the progress of the good roads movement.

Colorado Springs will have another postcard day next month, if the plans of the Chamber of Commerce are carried out. Cards advertising the Dry Farming congress will be issued. The club is planning to issue cards later in the fall advertising Colorado Springs as a fall and winter resort.

BODY NOT THAT OF JAMES

Mrs. Andrew J. James, whose husband disappeared under peculiar circumstances last June, is satisfied that the body of a man reported to have been found a month ago in the mountains near Cripple Creek was not that of her husband. Authorities in the district investigated the case for her and it has been decided that the body found last month was that of a man who died long before James disappeared from his home here.

James started on a prospecting trip into the Black mountain district June 27, and has not been heard from since.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE AGAINST T. L. ALMOND

Two Mexican shepherders will testify, it is understood, when T. L. Almond, Lincoln county homesteader, is placed on trial for killing his brother-in-law, W. H. Barger, that Almond told them that he was going to "shoot Barger in the head."

Court convenes in Hugo October 16. The Almond case, it is planned, will head the docket, and Almond will enter a plea of self defense. He is represented by Attorney Crowe of Hugo.

Almond's career in Missouri is being checked up by the district attorney.

182 VISIT LIBRARY

Wednesday was a record-breaking day at the public library, 182 people, the greatest number on record since the opening of the building February 22, having visited the institution. Although residents of Manitou are not making so much use of the library as they did immediately after it was opened, the tourists visit it every day, many going there to spend the day. At present the building is open a short time each evening, but little use is made of the books at this time. The library probably will be open evenings this winter.

One hundred and six books, consisting of fiction and a number of juvenile and reference volume were recently received and have just been catalogued. These, together with the newspapers from large cities, make a substantial addition to the already large and up-to-date library.

GET PURPLE BADGES

Badges of purple ribbon bearing the inscription, "Worthy, industrious and courteous Manitou children. From Mayor W. B. Kirby and Captain W. H. Rogers," in gold letters, have been presented by Mayor Kirby and Capt. Rogers to the children who served free lemonade at the Mansions Iron Springs during the All-States picnic here last Saturday. Those receiving the badges are: Nellie and Sylvia Hall, Ivan McDowell, Johnnie and Ruth Resinger, Helen Hitchisons, Alva Proctor and Golda McDowell.

What the Press Agents Say

A SHERLOCK HOLMES PLAY

"The Sign of the Four," by Conan Doyle, introducing the famous characters of Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, will be the offering of the Lorch Stock company at the Cliff house tonight and tomorrow, matinee and night. Theodore Lorch will be as Sherlock Holmes and James Hawley will appear as Dr. Watson. "In the Bishop's Carriage" will be presented for four days and a Wednesday matinee next week, commencing Monday night. "Fast Lynne" will close the week. Seats may be secured now for any performance next week. All reservations must be taken up before 8 o'clock the night of the performance for which they are reserved or they will be sold.

"The Sign of the Four" is a dramatization of one of the short stories by Conan Doyle of that title. It takes up one of the adventures of Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, the unraveling of a mystery is the principal theme of the play, though there is a love element in the drama, and considerable intense melodramatic moments. Mr. Lorch starred in this play one season. It is one of his most popular productions.

At the matinee next Wednesday afternoon souvenir pictures of George Graves, the stage director of the Lorch company, will be given away. This picture shows Mr. Graves as he appears as Tom Dorgan, the thief, in "The Bishop's Carriage." It is an excellent study in makeup.

BILLY VAN OPENS AT MAJESTIC TOMORROW

Just to go himself one better on the cracker jack show which has been drawing big houses all the week. Manager Tammie of the Majestic has booked another bill of feature attractions for the week, opening tomorrow afternoon and at the head of the list is that intimitable comedian, Billy Van, whose name is synonymous with fun the country over.

It begins to look as if William has become a Sullivan and Conside fixer. In a manner of speaking, he's always around, he always has new "stuff" and he is always a riot and if the information that has come over the circuit is correct, he's a bigger laugh this year than ever before.

There is something or other in the Van humor and in the Van personality that makes of him a genuine favorite. He is hailed as a personal acquaintance, he goes before and even the managers of the theaters in which he is to show, look forward to his visits with pleasure. Van is a royal "good fellow," a wonderful entertainer and a past master in the art of banishing the blues.

But William is by no means the only feature attraction for on the list of good things are the Olivetti Troubadours, whose act for years both in Europe and America has been one of the most popular musical offerings in the world. From guitars and violin they bring forth the sweetest of Italian melodies, and in Denver last week they stopped the show more than once.

ANOTHER BIG ARRIVAL!

STORY AT THE LYRIC

One that outshines that "Captain Kato" arrival picture shown a few days ago. Don't miss this one. It's called, "Back to the Primitive." John Wilton cables his sister Helen in London to leave for South Africa via S. S. China and apprises her of the fact that Lord Thurlow, sails on the same ship and is to act as her escort at the same time telling her she will meet them at Cape Town. A hurried preparation for the departure, and the long journey, is begun. An approaching storm rivets the attention of all on board for a time, and the unfortunate affair is forgotten. When 500 miles off Cape Town, the vessel is wrecked and all are struggling in the treacherous waters of the sea. After two days, during which time famine and starvation made the occupants of the improvised raft almost welcome death,

CIVIC ADVANCEMENT

A FEW days ago Mr. Adolph Boldt, Secretary of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, addressed the directors of the local civic organization on the various means employed to promote the welfare of the hustling Texas city which he represents. In the course of his talk Mr. Boldt used a phrase which is worth remembering. It was, "The Chamber of Commerce is the power house of the city."

This ought to be literally true in every city and town in the country, and it is true in all cities which have really effective commercial organizations, whether they be known as chambers of commerce, commercial clubs, or by some other name. The Chamber of Commerce ought in every case to include in its membership every individual firm and corporation interested in advancing the city's welfare, and this of course means everybody who lives in the city and has interests there, whether those interests be in the form of investments or of employment which brings a livelihood.

In every part of the country there are cities which have made wonderful advancement, especially in the last ten years, not particularly because of natural advantages but because they have been intelligently boomed. There was a time when it was believed that a city could not attain large growth unless located on a big river, or on an important natural harbor, or unless it possessed some other special natural advantage which placed it beyond reach of its rivals. This is no longer true if indeed, it ever was true. Intelligent exploitation, backed by plenty of money, has within recent years brought to the front cities so lacking in natural advantages that they never could have been anything but overgrown country towns without some artificial stimulus.

There is only one proper agency for this form of civic promotion, and that is a compact, strongly organized, commercial body. When the business and professional interests of a city unite to promote the public welfare, good results are certain. They may not come in the largest degree expected, but they will come in proportion to the energy, money and intelligence expended.

The reason of this is not hard to find. A city may have ever so many wide-awake, progressive citizens, anxious to do something to promote the general welfare and build up the municipality as a whole. But if there is no civic organization through which they can work their efforts are liable to prove futile. And why? Simply because there is no clearing-house for ideas, no means of getting together, comparing notes, separating good suggestions from those which are worthless, and utilizing the good ones to the fullest extent. Moreover, to employ the phrase used by the Houston Chamber of Commerce, there is no civic power house. Regardless of the number of human dynamos and "live wires" in a city, it is impossible to use their energy in a way that will produce results unless there is a Chamber of Commerce, or like organization, under some other name, to direct this energy into the proper channels.

It is only about six months ago that the three older civic organizations of Colorado Springs were consolidated into one for the express purpose of making effective the energy and public spirit which previously had been in large degree wasted through want of co-ordination. But already the Chamber of Commerce has achieved results which more than justify the consolidation. It has aroused the active support of scores of men who previously had displayed no interest at all in public enterprises not because they felt no interest but because there was no "civic power house" by which their energies could be utilized. By means of frequent meetings, many of them at lunches and dinners, it has brought the members together in a way which serves to promote acquaintanceships and suggests the exchange of ideas. The inevitable result has been a new and greater enthusiasm, and when men become enthusiastic in any cause, the task of raising money is relatively simple.

But although the CHANCE FOR Chamber of Commerce EVERYBODY now has a membership TO HELP larger than the combined lists of the three older organizations and a relatively larger income, it by no means has either the membership or the income which are necessary and desirable if it is to do the work expected of it. The opportunities before it are many, and their importance to the future development of Colorado Springs is far-reaching. It must be plain to everybody that we are now on the eve of an era of greater growth and prosperity, and the Chamber of Commerce ought to be financially able to take advantage of every means of accelerating this movement.

Of course there is only one way to obtain the money needed for this work, and that is by securing a larger membership. Unfortunately there is no good angel at hand ready and anxious to endow the Chamber of Commerce. The money so urgently needed must come from those who will benefit most by its expenditure, that is the people of Colorado Springs, who live here and have interests here and therefore must inevitably profit by whatever growth and prosperity results from the work underway. The work already done by the Chamber of Commerce this year is of enough value to Colorado Springs to justify an increase of not less than 50 per cent in the membership.

CHILDREN'S EXHIBITS IN THE FLOWER SHOW To the Editor of The Gazette:

After visiting the flower show, and spending much time in examining the splendid displays, the question arises in my mind, is the children's exhibit a division for the display of vegetables and flowers grown and exhibited by children under 16 years of age, or is it for exhibits placed in the names of children regardless of who raised the articles shown?

If it is the former, then some restrictions should be placed where parents allow children to exhibit stuff raised in the family garden by the parents and exhibited by the children. Such actions breed dishonesty among children, which in this day is acquired in the face of strong teachings of honesty.

If the exhibits are to be by children, regardless of who did the raising, then there is no use for a children's exhibit, for the principal object of such is lost entirely. I saw some exhibits of vegetables at the show supposed to be from the children's portion of the home garden which I feel sure were not grown by the children, and which would have made a good show in the general exhibit.

The premium list is silent on this matter, except in rule 7, which says in part: "All exhibits must be grown by the person exhibiting." This should cover the children's class, but if it does, certain exhibitors must have overlooked it, intentionally or otherwise. Large exhibits by small children should be investigated before premiums are awarded.

Children should be encouraged in the raising of vegetables and flowers, but they should not be taught dishonesty, as that is acquired without aid from parents.

FROM OTHER PENS

Bribing a State.

From Collier's.

Of all the states west of the Mississippi, the two which have been least touched by the insurgent spirit are Utah and Wyoming. For the former there is a special reason; for Wyoming the explanation is contained in a brief compilation sent to us by a citizen of that state:

Town.	Population.	Federal Building.
Lander	1,812	$157,000
Basin	2,630	65,000
Casper	6,000	65,000
Douglas	2,246	65,000

Try to imagine a town of less than 2,000 people with a $157,000 federal building. But in addition to these, several yet smaller towns are in line. Basin has a population of 763, and $6,000 has been appropriated as a start to buy the site for a federal building. Cody has 1,332 people and Green River 1,318; $6,000 of Uncle Sam's money has been appropriated for site for a federal building in each. For illuminating comment on these plain figures, read the leading standpat organ of the state, the Wyoming Tribune.

To date the people of northern and central Wyoming have received, through the efforts of their delegation in congress, direct expenditures of government funds aggregating a grand total of over $21,000,000. Our neighbor on the south—Colorado—has three postoffice buildings, the best being inferior to the poorest one in Wyoming. The answer to the above is that Colorado has been changing its delegation, while Wyoming hasn't—and this comparison points out its own unmistakable moral.

Moral, indeed! There are few cases of political degradation more sordid than this. Do the people of Wyoming fatuously think that they get these public buildings without paying for them? If they want to know just what is the coin they give, let them examine the votes of their one congressman and two senators on any vital matter, the direct election of senators, for example, or the retention of Larimer.

DISRUPTION OF STANDARD OIL

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

There can be no doubt that the Standard Oil company of New Jersey was organized to accomplish and did accomplish that which is forbidden by the law of the United States. Its dissolution, therefore, was inevitable whenever final action of the courts was had.

There was also a general wish that the dissolution should be ordered in punishment for illegal and abominable acts of oppression committed so long ago that no criminal prosecution of individuals will stand.

And there are many who desired the dissolution of the corporation mainly because they hate and will harm if they can all very rich men.

It is now stated, presumably with substantial truth, that the great corporation is to be subdivided into many independent concerns, the stocks of which will be distributed pro rata among the present stockholders of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

There is, in fact, no other way to deal with the problem.

For the present, therefore, there will be no change of ownership—but in the course of time changes will naturally occur, and it is impossible but ultimately the ownership of the different corporations will pass into different groups having no connection with each other. That is the not improbable result of dissolution, but it will not come at once, and may never come.

There are outstanding of Standard Oil stock $32,383 shares. Of these, John D. Rockefeller owns, or recently did own, 247,682 shares, or approximately 25 per cent. There are 501,213 shares, including those of Mr. Rockefeller—a clear majority—owned by a group of 13 individuals and estates, which includes all those best known in connection with Standard Oil affairs. The remaining 482,171 shares are distributed among approximately 6,000 shareholders, which would mean average holdings of about 80 shares each.

Obviously, if each of these small owners has to receive his proportionate share of 15 or 20 corporations, more or less, his interest in any one of them will be trivial, and often represented only by a fraction of a share. This will be very inconvenient for them.

It is also obvious that the cost of carrying on this large number of independent corporations will be enormously greater than that of the present methods of conducting the business. It is probable that some of the concerns will be less ably managed than at present.

The petroleum industry, in all its ramifications, is an enormous business, which has come to be of the highest importance to the public.

In reality every business man is a public servant, and every business establishment a public service. The public interest in the efficient conduct of these services is in a direct ratio with their magnitude. In the case of petroleum products that interest is very great.

The question then arises whether there is a public gain in compelling this very important public service to be managed less economically and efficiently than it has been.

If there is any economic gain it must be in the reduction in prices paid by consumers of petroleum products. If each of our readers who uses these products will write down the prices which he now pays, and compare them a year hence with the prices he pays then, he will know whether he has gained, and how much he has gained, by the dissolution of this particular trust.

In eastern cities there are wicked, but most competent men, who gamble in stocks. Very little Standard Oil stock appears on the market, but such sales as have been made since the decision indicate the belief of some of the brightest men in the country to be that the consumer will not gain anything. There is a slight falling off in price, about what would represent the probable increased cost of business and the inconvenience to small holders receiving fractional shares in many corporations.

We must simplify politics so that a man can be fully informed on the subject without half trying. Politics can easily be made so simple that the laziest, most indifferent citizen can be as expert as any. Politics can be made so primitively simple that there will be nothing to be expert in. Such simplification is absolutely necessary if we are to get rid of government by politicians, for we must make the politicians superfluous in the community before we can undertake to abolish them. We must arrange somehow to get the work done which they are now doing, and the best way, the sound way, is to simplify the work so that all the people can take it over.

This means that we must stop electing petty administrative officers whom the people take no interest in, and we must stop electing large numbers of officers at one time, so that the ticket making function of the politicians can be taken over by the ordinary citizen.

I went forth to sport and frolic, till I got sick again. And thuswise all the CHANGES kids were treated by grannies in their day; they swallowed yarbs, tea superheated, and sickness skipped away. But now the world is so enlightened, we fear at granny's done; then stopped all the colic, the anguish and the pain, and much as I honor the girl deeply as I grieve for her, I differ from her about that.

She could have done more. Others have done more.

Now, please, before you get indignant at my hardness, listen to what I have to tell you about another girl.

This second girl has been helping to support a large family of younger brothers and sisters ever since her father lost his position several years ago. She, also, is a stenographer, and according to pretty reliable accounts, works as hard as the first girl, if not harder.

And she is not broken down, nor anywhere near it.

Well, the first girl thought she gave everything to her people.

The second girl really gave everything.

The first girl gave all her strength.

The second girl gave all her strength, and in addition gave the care and self-restraint that kept the source of that strength still good.

The first girl used to come home from her work tired out and eat her dinner without resting. Sometimes after dinner she would sit down and embroider or read until late at night. Other times she would go to a dance or the theater. She almost never took any healthy exercise, and seldom got enough sleep. In the morning she would get up with barely time to get to work, bolt her breakfast and run for the train. She often went without luncheons to save money for some luxury.

The second girl usually walked to and from work for the sake of the exercise. When she reached home she would rest for a few minutes before eating. After dinner she usually went for a walk. She tried to be in bed every night except Saturday at half-past 10. If she went to a dance or to the theater, it always had to be Saturday night. In the morning she got up at half-past six, which gave her time for a set of exercise, a cold sponge and a good breakfast. Sundays she often went out into the country, and almost always, winter and summer, spent a good part of the day out of doors.

Of course, I honor the first girl, but I honor the second even more.

There are men and women everywhere who think they are showing the highest possible devotion to their families if they work themselves to death for them.

But they are not.

There is a still higher devotion, and that is to so live so save and husband and care for one's self as to be able to keep on living for them.

Don't you think so?

THE DAY'S NEWS IN SPORT CIRCLES

HILLIES WILL PROTEST GAME WITH CINCINNATI

Pilots Fear Races Today if Ogren Is Allowed on Course

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—President Horace Fogel of the Philadelphia national league club has filed a protest with President Lynch on tomorrow's game between Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

The ground for the protest occurred in the final inning. Downey, the first up, hit a line drive to center field. Ogren ran in, dived after the ball and apparently caught it. Umpire John called the batter out but when Major Griffith of Cincinnati protested, and appealed to Umpire Johnston, the latter allowed Griffith's claim that Ogren had scooped the ball from the ground.

Umpire Eason then changed his decision. A long wrangle ensued during which Manager-Captain Doolan was ejected from the game.

Ogren is accused of carelessness in the official trials, during the first lap of which he drove his "Gooby" into a ditch today. He and his mechanic escaped uninjured, but the machine lost a wheel. It is said the accident would not have happened to a pilot familiar with handling high-speed cars over country roads.

The weather prediction is not optimistic. Clouds threatened a downpour all day today, but rain did not materialize, and is expected before morning. Several thousand persons watched the trials at various vantage points around the eight and one-half mile course. Drivers say the road is much faster than last year, and, while far from perfect, probably the fastest in the country outside of Savannah, where the Vanderbilt cup and grand prize races will be held.

Fair time was made in the trials. Grant, two-mile winner of the Vanderbilt cup did the first lap in 7:42. Other trials:

Buck, Pope-Hartford, 7:46; Hughes, Mercer, 7:51; Mulford, Loesler, 8:44; Hartman, Alco, 8:37; Morris, Cole, 8:43; De Palma, Simplex, 8:44.

Grant averaged 66.15 miles to the hour.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 24.—Promoter Frank Mulkern has ordered Packey McFarland to cancel the match he has scheduled with Leo Kelly, for St. Louis, on Labor day. Mulkern told McFarland he would have to cancel this bout, or his match with Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion, billed for September 15, at Milwaukee, would be called off.

"You look like a two spot! What's the matter with you? Are you afraid? You ain't trying a lick and this tough young fellow will beat you sure! I'm ashamed of you!"

Wolgast, stung by this criticism, began to show some real fighting after that and, though outpointed, he wasn't humiliated.

K. O. Brown's pugilistic gray matter is in the head of Danny Morgan, the young east sider who brought him into the limelight. Brown never begins a battle without first receiving orders from Morgan. The latter is a close student of pugilism and seldom overooks anything while a bout is in progress:

"Am I doin' right, Morgan?" Brown asks as he takes his corner.

"Yes, but you can do better," replies the manager. "Just tear in and shoot that left into the body! Land a few of them and you'll walk in."

"All right, Morgan! Just watch me!" says the little Dutchman, who follows this advice to the letter. If Brown's antagonist is weakening, Morgan shouts one magic word through the ropes.

"Fight!" he yells, and the response is instantaneous. If Brown suffers defeat some day it will be due to Morgan's mistaken judgment, for the blond-haired Teuton cannot fight successfully without his manager's headwork.

Freak Turney at Kranswick

Beginning next Tuesday night the Brunswick alleys will inaugurate a freak bowling tournament that already has the bowling element sitting up and taking notice. The tourney will continue through the week.

A, B, C rules will govern, and each contestant will be required to bowl three games on each of the six nights. There will be three men to an alley and the bowlers will roll by number as his name appears on the entry list. Contestants will not know with whom they are to bowl until the games start.

The Brunswick management has offered an attractive array of prizes and in this tournament the inexperienced bowler stands an equal chance with the star in landing a prize.

A general list of prizes as arranged up to date includes the following: Highest total number of pins in contest, lowest number of pins in contest, second highest number of pins and second low score in total pins; highest score in single game, lowest score in single game; highest consecutive run of strikes, highest run of spares; least number of errors, greatest number of splits, and most awkward bowler.

Prizes are offered also to bowlers who leave the 7 and 10 pin standing, and a standard cash prize for leaving the 7, 8, 9, 10 pins erect.

Bowlers throughout the city are taking much interest in the unique tournament, and a big list of entries is expected before the games begin next Tuesday night.

ANNUAL AUTO RACES OVER ELGIN TRIANGLE ON TODAY

ELGIN, Ill., Aug. 24.—The country-side around this little manufacturing town appeared as one huge garage today, with automobiles of every description dotted the landscape for miles around. The thousands who have come here to see the greatest road races of the year, the national stock chassis championships, have settled down to camp, as it were, until the morrow, when the first of the big contests will be held.

A conservative estimate places the number of persons already here, as members of automobile parties from Chicago and elsewhere, at about 5,000, and it is predicted that fully ten times that number of persons will arrive in the morning by automobile and train, bringing the total number of spectators well above the 50,000 mark. Every barn and outhouse that can be utilized as a makeshift shelter for the motor cars has been taken possession of by the thronging autoists, while others have been obliged to be content with keeping their machines in the open fields of surrounding farms.

All interest today was centered on the daring race drivers who, in their final workouts, steered their powerful engines of speed around the turns of the course where the trials of the year will begin tomorrow. On all hands it is declared the meet will be the greatest road event of 1911. Three races will be held tomorrow, while the banner event, the national stock chassis championship, is scheduled for Saturday. The trophies up for competition tomorrow are the Fox River trophy, distance 127 miles; Kane county trophy, distance 120 miles; and Illinois trophy, 202 miles. The E. L. team, composed of Greiner, Pearce and Grenaw, is favored to win the Kane county trophy, the most important of these three races.

The big event Saturday is expected to narrow down into a four-cornered fight between De Palma, Wishart, Harry Grant and Ralph Mulford. The last two are looked upon as the most likely to win, and the duel between them will be watched with keen interest. Grant is the star of the Aloco team, of which the other members are Harry Hartman and Frank Lee. Mulford, who with his big Logier, won the in 1910, is driving the same car this year.

Since having won the 1909 and 1910 Vanderbilt cup races, and winning two out of three events at the Indianapolis speedway last July, Grant has been unfortunate in his starts in both the Elgin last year and in the recent speedway sweepstakes. In the meantime Mulford has been a most consistent finisher. Since winning the Elgin in 1910, he has finished fifth in the Vanderbilt (won by Grant), second in the Fairmount park roadrace, fifth in the Atlanta grand prize and first, second and third respectively in the 20-mile stock chassis, 200-mile stock chassis and 20-mile free-for-all at Atlanta. In not a single race in the entire season of 1910 did Mulford fail to finish either as a winner or in better than fifth place. He finished in second place in the recent 500-mile race at Indianapolis in 6 hours and 43 minutes and 51 seconds—one minute and 43 seconds behind Harroun's winning Marmon.

The course is eight miles and 2,493 feet in length, but the improvements which have been made since the races of last year cannot bear the result in the making of much faster time than the 1910 record of 62.55 miles per hour. Many hundreds of dollars have been spent in widening the road, cutting it and in straightening out curves. The home stretch has been widened from 16 feet to 54 feet; Britton's Hill has been cut considerably, the Udine turn has been entirely remodeled and widened to 100 feet and telegraph poles set back from the road. The west leg, which a year ago was a country lane, is now one of the fastest portions of the route and the McQueen turn at the northwest corner has been carried further outside. The average width for the entire course for the entire distance is 24 feet as against 16 feet in 1910.

In order to minimize the danger of fatal accidents, the Illinois state militia is here in force to police the turns and other perilous parts of the course. Governor Deeney of Illinois also arrived today and reviewed the troops. He will be an honorary official at the meet.

LANGFORD WON FROM ROSS BY KNOCKOUT

LITTLE AND BEIR IN BRILLIANT CONTEST

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Sam Langford, the Boston heavyweight, knocked out Tony Ross of Pittsburgh, in the sixth round of their scheduled 10-round bout at the National Sporting Club here tonight.

Langford hit up a terrific pace at the tap of the first song, and despite the fact that Ross had the advantage of some 35 pounds in weight, gave the latter a severe beating. In the fifth round only old Ross slow to advantage. Through the other rounds Langford hammered him unmercifully, and in the fourth was robbed of a knockout by the bell after Ross had taken the count of nine.

It was in the fourth round that Ross took the hardest beating. With an assortment of hooks, jabs, swings and uppercuts, delivered in whirlwind style, the Boston fighter beat his opponent until the latter dropped exhausted.

To the surprise of everybody, Ross came back strong in the fifth. He hurt Langford with a right to the stomach and the latter slowed up. Ross followed with right and left swings and claimed the honors at the tap of the gong.

In the sixth round as they came out of a clinch, the Boston fighter stepped back and suddenly swung a right uppercut to the chin and as Ross staggered Langford shot a terrific left to the jaw and Ross went down and out. He had to be carried to his corner.

JENSEN AND YOUNG CODY DOWN WITH ERYSPIELAS

DENVER, Aug. 24.—Two prize fighters well known in the Rocky Mountain region are in Steelie hospital, this city, suffering from erysipelas. They are Peter Jensen, the "Battling Dane," and Harold (Young) Cody. It is supposed they contracted the disease from infected gloves when they engaged in a preliminary at Leadville, Aug. 17. They have been rooming together at the Millard hotel, and today Jensen became delirious and despite Cody's efforts to restrain him, jumped from a second story window. Although alighting on the sidewalk he was not seriously injured, but was sent to the hospital.

(CRIPPLE CREEK MINES)

NEW YORK MARKET

CHICAGO MARKET

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug. 24.—The Homestake mill on Ironclad hill, formerly owned by the Cripple Creek Homestake Mining and Milling company, has been leased by the Rex Mining and Milling company to local men, and the plant is being overhauled and renovated. Treatment of custom ores will commence by September 1, and the operators, Cooper and company, also will treat ore mined from the leased mineral ground adjacent to the mill site. The plant has a tonnage capacity of between 75 and 100 tons daily.

The Kankin Quartz Mill.

Articles of incorporation of the Kankin Quartz Mill company have been filed for record. The company is incorporated under Dakota laws. S. Rankin, the inventor of the quartz mill, is a well-known mine operator of this district. The mill is a profitable affair, but can treat nine tons daily. The entire outfit can be carried on one mile or burro. Rankin leaves tomorrow for Denver to contract for construction of the mill parts. A model plant will be shortly in operation in this district.

Regal Savage.

Operations were resumed this morning by lessees on the Regal Savage Gold Mining company's Beacon Hill estate. The mine has remained closed since the fatal happening of Monday last, when two minors lost their lives. Today, prior to the lowering of the bucket with miners, a torch was lowered to the bottom of the shaft, and these conditions will obtain. Had such precautions been taken the loss of life would undoubtedly have been averted.

Union L. C. S.

The Union Leasing company, operating the Huston shaft on the Gold Dollar, is shipping at the rate of a car a day. The grade of the ore is close to one ounce of gold to the ton. A higher grade of ore is coming from the Mable M. or main shaft of the Gold Dollar company, located at the south end of this Beacon Hill property.

Prince Albert.

Cookery and sons, leasing on the Prince Albert on the south slope of Beacon Hill, are shipping two cars a week of milling grade ore.
